

Author Talk with Sarah Deer

THE BEGINNING AND END OF RAPE:

Confronting Sexual Violence
in Native America

Tuesday, April 5, 7–9 pm, Cowles Auditorium, Humphrey School of Public Affairs

Sarah Deer, a 2014 MacArthur Fellow and Professor of Law at Mitchell Hamline, delivers a talk on the possibility of actual and positive change in a world where Native women are systematically undervalued, left unprotected, and hurt.

Book signing and dessert reception to follow.

RSVP encouraged: <https://diversity.umn.edu/women/annualspeaker>

Co-sponsored with American Indian Studies, The Aurora Center for Advocacy and Education, Circle of Indigenous Nations, Gender, Women, and Sexuality Studies, and the University of Minnesota Press.