

Sam and the INCREDIBLE African and American Food Fight

Shannon
Gibney

Illustrations by Charly
Palmer

“From Shannon Gibney and Charly Palmer comes a wonderful story filled with our childhood memories and illustrated with astonishing colors. A fantastic and worthy addition to any collection!”

—SIMAN NUURALI, author of the Sadiq Series

“A perfect read aloud for elementary students and an excellent way to introduce acceptance and diversity into classroom discussions.”

—YOUTH SERVICES BOOK REVIEW

MATCH THE INGREDIENTS

Draw a line connecting each type of food to its name.

What would you make using these ingredients?

CASSAVA LEAF

OKRA

EGGPLANT

BASIL

MEATBALL

ONION

PALM OIL

RED PEPPER

Sam and the Incredible African and American Food Fight

Download activity sheets:
z.umn.edu/samfoodfight

EXPLORING NEW FOODS

Think of the last time you weren't sure about trying a new food.
Draw the food below. Did your opinion change after you tried it?

WHAT IS IT CALLED?

HOW DOES IT TASTE?

Sam and the Incredible African and American Food Fight

Download activity sheets:
z.umn.edu/samfoodfight

WHERE IN THE WORLD?

Sam gets to know foods that he links with different places in the world:

Torbogee, a dish from northern Liberia; and homemade pizza, made with a family recipe from midwestern United States. What are some dishes, foods, or meals you associate with different places?

PLACE:

FOOD:

•

•

•

•

•

Sam and the Incredible African and American Food Fight

Download activity sheets:
z.umn.edu/samfoodfight