

NUMBER OF TITLES PUBLISHED IN 2015: 136

Minnesota and the Upper Midwest: 23

Research: 96

General Interest: 17

FUNDING

Sales: 93%
University of Minnesota: 5%
Grants, gifts, and endowments: 2%

90 YEARS OLD

34 STAFF

15 AWARDS IN 2015

AUTHOR BASE

Worldwide faculty: 60%

Critics, chefs, journalists, gardeners, wilderness guides, and more: 25%

University of Minnesota faculty: 15%

First book published
Cyrus Northrop: A Memoir, by Oscar W. Firkins (1925)

All-time best seller
Literary Theory, by Terry Eagleton (1983)

2015 National Book Critics Circle Award winner
The Essential Ellen Willis

WHAT DOES THE UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA PRESS DO?

- We publish books for readers of all ages—from children and young adults to scholars and students to everyday booklovers looking for the next great novel, cookbook, history, or memoir.
- We identify boundary-breaking scholars and help them shape their ideas into books that change the cultural conversation.
- We support a diverse publishing ecosystem by working in areas that don't guarantee the broad readership that would attract a for-profit publisher.
- We amplify minority voices and perspectives that, taken together, tell the story of our state and our world.
- We work with award-winning translators to bring the works of international writers and thinkers to English-speaking readers.
- We give experience, advice, and opportunities to the next generation of publishing professionals through our student internship program.
- We develop and publish the most widely used objective tests of personality in the world: the Minnesota Multiphasic Personality Inventory, or MMPI.
- We create new models and methods to advance the future of scholarship and publishing—such as Manifold Scholarship, a networked publishing platform that will track the development of a scholarly manuscript in real time.

Like other nonprofit organizations, we rely on the generosity of people like you to accomplish all of the above and more. Most of our operating funds come from sales and the commitment of our donors. And here's a fact that might surprise you: less than 5 percent of our annual funding comes from the University of Minnesota.

Thank you for helping us publish books that make our state a more vibrant and diverse place to live. Learn more about our work and how you can support it at www.upress.umn.edu.